E. Policy

The LHC Auditorium is a unique, 176-seat facility equipped with sophisticated audiovisual equipment and a projection system. As a unique biomedical communication facility, it is to be used for specialized events that require its capabilities. It is not to be considered a facility for regular meetings of advisory bodies, but should be reserved primarily for conferences, symposia and workshops that require multimedia equipment.

It is a security requirement that any software or program that is brought to the LHC Auditorium for presentation purposes on a portable drive must be scanned for viruses before being loaded onto the LHC Auditorium computer.

The normal operating hours of the LHC Auditorium are Monday through Friday, 7:30am–6:00pm. Weekend and/or evening events are allowed only by special exception approved by the NLM Director. If events are approved to extend beyond regular weekday hours or take place on a weekend, the sponsoring Institute or Center (IC) must provide a Common Accounting Number (CAN) to pay for NIH security guards.

An event request is tentative until approved by the NLM Director.

IMPORTANT NOTE: Food and beverages are not allowed in the LHC Auditorium. (No exceptions.) Failure to comply may result in revocation of meeting privileges in the future

F. Priorities for Assignment of Conference Space

Programmatic activities which support the mission of the NLM receive first priority for use of the LHC Auditorium. When space is not required for these activities, it may be scheduled under the following general priorities:

Priority 1: Director, NLM, the NLM Board of Regents and the Board of Scientific Counselors Meetings.

Priority 2: Official NLM and NIH sponsored national and international scientific meetings may reserve the LHC Auditorium up to one year in advance.

Priority 3: NLM approved meetings of other HHS health agencies may reserve the space up to 6 months in advance.

Priority 4: NLM approved meetings of other health-related organizations (e.g., professional societies) whose use of the facility will benefit the program interests of the NLM, may reserve the space up to 3 months in advance.
