A. Purpose

This manual chapter provides policy on acquisitions that require (1) clearance, (2) technical coordination, and/or (3) the use of a required source, as these terms are defined in E. Definitions, below. It covers contract actions, including simplified acquisitions.

B. Background

This manual chapter replaces Manual Chapter 6307-3/26307-3, “Special Clearance and Other Acquisition Procedures”, dated 09/30/98. It covers procedures for contract actions, including simplified acquisitions. This Manual Chapter addresses clearances as well as acquisition procedures other than clearances, since all of these actions are necessary prior to the acquisition of the commodity/service. This Manual Chapter sets out not only the procedure required but the officials responsible for the completion of each procedure.

C. Policy

It is the policy of the National Institutes of Health (NIH) to minimize the number of clearances and required sources to those mandated by statute or regulation. Included are those procedures that are necessary in order to protect the life and health of employees and other persons and for the prevention of theft and/or damage to any property. Clearances must be obtained, and technical coordination and required source utilization must occur, prior to the award of a purchase order, delivery order, Blanket Purchase Agreement (BPA) Call, purchase card order, contract, or any other NIH acquisition vehicle.

E. Definitions

1. Approver: An individual (typically an Administrative Officer, Administrative Assistant, Lead Purchasing Agent, or Purchasing Agent) who has been granted Contracting Officer Authority up to specified dollar limits.
2. Buyer: An individual, usually a purchasing agent, responsible for ordering or submitting an online requisition for commodities/services to the appropriate Office of Acquisition.
3. Clearance: The acquisition approval that must be obtained from a clearance office indicated in Appendix 1 prior to proceeding with the acquisition.
4. Clearance Office/Official: The office/individual who makes the clearance approval or disapproval determination.
5. Clearance Request: The memorandum or procurement request (e.g., NIH 1861-1) that is forwarded to the Clearance Office for acquisition approval.
6. Contracting Officer: A person with the authority to enter into, administer, and/or terminate contracts and make related determinations and findings. The term includes certain authorized representatives of the contracting officer acting within the limits of authority as delegated by the contracting officer. A single contracting officer may be responsible for duties in any or all of these areas.
7. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) Acquisition Regulation (HHSAR): Establishes uniform HHS acquisition policies and procedures to conform to the Federal Acquisition Regulations (FAR) System. The HHSAR implements FAR policies and procedures, and provides additional policies and procedures that supplement the FAR. The HHSAR contains HHS policies and procedures that govern the acquisition process or otherwise control acquisition relationships between HHS' contracting activities and contractors.

8. Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR): The Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR) System is established for the codification and publication of uniform policies and procedures for acquisition by all executive agencies. The FAR System consists of the Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR), which is the primary document, and agency acquisition regulations that implement or supplement the FAR. Agency acquisition regulations shall be limited to those necessary to implement FAR policies and procedures within the agency; and additional policies, procedures, solicitation provisions, or contract clauses that supplement the FAR to satisfy the specific needs of the agency.
9. Facility Project Approval Agreement (FPAA-HHS Form 300): A written agreement between a designated Operating Division (OPDIV) official of HHS (i.e. Project Manager, Project Director and OPDIV Board Member) and the Department of HHS evidencing the OPDIV's commitment to execute a particular project. A FPAA is required for all facility construction projects exceeding $1 million, improvement projects exceeding $2 million including the installation of equipment or scientific instruments requiring attachment to a building or its infrastructure, and all repair projects exceeding $5 million. The FPAA documents the project's scope and description, basis of need, funding source(s), and total cost from all sources. It identifies project schedule milestones, including completion of design, construction, activation, and operational phases.
10. National Institutes of Health Business System (NBS): NIH's automated system used for ordering and receiving of commodities and services.
11. Head of Contracting Activity (HCA): The official who has overall responsibility for managing the contracting activity. At the NIH, this individual is the Director, Office of Acquisition and Logistics Management (OALM), Office of Management (OM), Office of the Director (OD).
12. Inter-Agency Funds Transfer: All Inter-Agency funds transfers will be approved by the cognizant Chief Contracting Officer where the request originated.
13. Purchase Cardholder: An individual delegated authority to use a Government-wide purchase card.
14. Purchase Card Approving Official: The purchase cardholder's immediate supervisor or higher level official, or the cardholder's Administrative Officer.
15. Requester: The individual, usually in an Institute or Center (IC), who initiates a procurement request, either online or by use of a requisition form.
16. Required Source: A commodity with an "X" in the Required Source column must be procured through the office indicated in Appendix 1. These offices have the specialized expertise for the provision of specific supplies, services or equipment in the most cost efficient and effective manner for NIH. They usually have established sources of supply that permit prompt ordering.

17. Technical Coordination: The required communication and coordination that the requester must have with the appropriate office indicated in Appendix 1, prior to submitting a procurement request or a request for contract to the Office of Acquisition.

F. Responsibilities

1. Requester: Responsible for initiating the procurement request and obtaining the required clearances or technical coordination as listed in Appendix 1 of this manual chapter. The requester must coordinate with a purchasing agent, or, as appropriate, a contracting officer in checking the appropriate Federal and NIH required sources.
2. Buyer or Purchase Cardholder: Responsible for obtaining the required clearances and disseminating information copies as identified in Appendix 1, unless otherwise specified in instructions.
3. Approver or Purchase Card Approving Official: Relative to contracts up to and including the simplified acquisition threshold (SAT) that are awarded using simplified acquisition procedures and purchase card buys, is responsible for ensuring that the required clearances and/or technical coordination have been acquired or occurred, and that the required sources are used whenever appropriate. If the required clearances and/or technical coordination have not been acquired or occurred, or that the required sources have not been used when appropriate, is responsible for notifying the Buyer or Purchase Cardholder.
4. Contracting Officer: Relative to contracts above the SAT and acquisition awards made using other than simplified acquisition procedures, is responsible for ensuring that the required clearances and/or technical coordination have been acquired or occurred, and that the required sources are used whenever appropriate. If the appropriate clearances are not in the procurement request or acquisition project plan and no other instructions are specified in Appendix 1, is responsible for notifying the Buyer or the requesting office (e.g., project office).
5. Clearance Office/Official: Responsible for approving or disapproving the clearance request within five working days, and resolving questions/problems arising from a clearance request.

G. Procedures

Search for the desired commodity in Appendix 1 and if applicable, follow the instructions. (NOTE: Appendix 1 represents statutory, regulatory, HHS and NIH requirements. IC internal policy must be checked for more stringent requirements and/or an IC-specific waiver from NIH requirements.)

1. Clearance: A supply or service with an "X" in the Clearance column must have Clearance Office approval prior to placing an order or executing a contract. Failure to complete this required step could cause a significant delay in the acquisition process as orders/contracts cannot be placed until after the IC and/or NIH clearances have been obtained.

- a. The clearance request is forwarded by the Requester to the appropriate clearance office.
 - b. The applicable clearance office identified in Appendix 1, after approving or disapproving the request, returns the document to the Requester. If the request is disapproved, the Requester shall clarify the issues, make the required changes, and reissue the clearance request.
 - c. Once the clearance request has been approved:
 1. BPA Calls and purchase orders may be placed with the vendor after the clearance is received and all other required actions, as applicable, have been accomplished.
 2. Purchase and delivery order requisitions can be approved by the Approver.
 3. Contract approval documentation can be forwarded to the appropriate Office of Acquisition and included in the Acquisition Plan (AP) as part of the official contract file.
 - d. Approval of purchase order, delivery order and contract requisitions will certify that all clearances have been obtained.
 - e. Orders/contracts may be placed with the vendor/contractor after the clearance is received and all other required actions, as applicable, have been accomplished. Clearances must be filed in the official acquisition file. For simplified acquisitions, the file must be retained for three years after final payment is made; and for contracts, the file must be retained for six years and three months after final payment is made.
2. Technical Coordination: A supply or service with an "X" in the Technical Coordination column requires Technical Coordination prior to submission of the procurement request. The Requester must communicate and coordinate with and follow the guidance provided by the office indicated in Appendix 1. Technical coordination will vary depending on the office and the nature of that particular office's requirements. Technical Coordination guidance and recommendations exist to ensure that commodities/services ordered meet standards in place at NIH for safety and for compatibility with pre-existing systems. The requester should note the office contacted, the individual spoken with, the date, and a summary of the technical discussion on the procurement request or within the AP. This information will assure the Approver/Contracting Officer that the technical coordination was conducted. No further documentation is required.
3. Required Source: A supply or service with an "X" in the Required Source column must be procured through the office indicated in Appendix 1. These offices have specialized expertise in obtaining specific supplies, services or equipment in the most cost efficient and effective manner for NIH. They usually have established sources of supply that permit prompt ordering. The Requester should note the office contacted, the individual spoken with, the date, and a summary of the actions to be taken. Any documents resulting from the collaboration shall be incorporated into the file.

H. Records Retention and Disposal

All records (e-mail and non-e-mail) pertaining to this Chapter must be retained and disposed of under the authority of NIH Manual 1743, "Keeping and Destroying Records," Appendix 1, "NIH Records Control Schedule", Item 2600-A-4, "Routine Procurement Files".

Back-up files are subject to the same requests as original messages.
